All taxpayers are invited to attend a hearing to be held at A. Fleischer's office in the Stern building this evening. The hearing is the second one called by the sub-committee of the Democratic county organization for the purpose of getting the views of the people on the taxation and salary questions. The desires of the people will be embodied in the Democratic county convention platform.

TOO LATE TO EXTEND TIME FOR VOTING AT THE PRIMARIES

Because of legal difficulties in the way of the plan, a proffer from the Republican forces of the county Republican organization to extend the time for voting at the primaries tomorrow night was rejected by the Gilmanwater-Andrews men last night. Eliego Baca is said to have sent out of his supporters to the Gilmanwater-Andrews headquarters, where the offer to agree to an extension was made. The city Republicans insisted in support of Mr. Andrews' candidacy for congress have been angry over the time limit of two hours set for voting tomorrow night. They say it doesn't afford time enough to get the vote out.

The proffer of an agreement to extend the time by mutual consent was received with interest, but it was pointed out that the law required the county committee to make any such change, and that an extension by agreement between primary opponents would leave the way open to a contest by defeated candidates.

SUFFRAGISTS MAY HOLD STATE MEETING HERE

Mrs. W. E. Lindsey of Portales and other leaders in the suffrage campaign in New Mexico are talking of calling a meeting here during their week for the purpose of organizing a state suffrage association. No plans have been formed for the proposed meeting yet but the fair commission has announced that if it is called every assistance possible will be given to make it a success.

PUBLIC RECEPTION TO LAWYERS IS ARRANGED

Everybody Invited to Join Local Barristers in Welcoming Visitors During Bar Convention. Code of Ethics.

Arrangements recommended by the committee in charge were adopted by the Bernalillo County Bar association last night for the state convention to be held here August 18 and 19. The meeting was held at the Commercial club, where the sessions of the convention are to take place. Lawyers from all over the state are expected at the convention. The incoming barristers will be met at the train by committees from the local bar, and the welcome-to-our-city atmosphere will strike the visitors from the minute they set foot on the station platform.

On the evening of the 15th a public reception to the visiting lawyers and their families will be held at the Commercial club. There will be cards, dancing and conversation, and the public in general is invited to drop in and join in welcoming the visitors to town.

The business session on the 15th will be adjourned at 3 o'clock, and the delegates and their families will be taken on an automobile ride. They will return to town in time for the banquet to be held by the state association at the Alvarado at 7:30 o'clock.

Convention arrangements were not the only subject considered last night by the association. The code of ethics of the American Bar association was adopted as the code of the Bernalillo county bar. The national association code is the accepted model for rules on legal ethics all over the country.

Judge R. S. Rodey rose to remark that he wished to goodness the code of ethics were applied to politics. He thought it would help politics in county and state.

DOG IS ENTITLED TO KILL A CALF UNDER LAW

Until Animal Establishes Reputation as a Killer Owner isn't Liable, According to Court Ruling.

If you have a calf, and the calf is killed by a dog, investigate the dog before starting suit against his owner. If he has a well-established reputation as a calf-killer, you stand a chance to recover damages. If he has no standing in the community as a calf-killer, don't bother to sue. The law is not with you.

This was established yesterday when Judge Reynolds in the district court decided an appeal in the case of George Blake against J. C. Smith. Several months ago Smith's building killed Blake's calf. Blake sued and Justice Tartaglia of San Jose gave him a verdict for $100. Smith appealed the case. It wasn't necessary for Smith to present his side at the appeal hearing yesterday. Judge Reynolds ruled that Blake had no ground on which to recover, because he failed to show, first, that the building was in the habit of killing calves, and second, that Smith knew it. Since Smith had a right to keep a dog, and only dogs known to be vicious or dangerous are required to be kept tied, Blake wasn't, on the face of things, entitled to a cent.

H. R. Jamison, of Vigil & Jamison, appeared for Smith.

SANTA FE SHOPS SHUT DOWN FOR REST OF WEEK

The Santa Fe shops shut down today, to remain closed until next Monday. Notices of the shutdown were posted throughout the shops yesterday afternoon just before quitting time.

It was stated at the office this morning that there was no question about resuming operation Monday. About 700 men are employed in all departments of the plant.

A variety of reasons are said to have made it expedient to close the shops for a few days. Preparations are going on for the continued construction of the new shop buildings, and cessation of work will help facilitate the evolution of the old shop group into the new.

Butt's Drug Store Moving.

INDUSTRY HUMS THROUGHOUT WEST
Chicago, Ill., Aug. 6.—Prosperity, brought about mainly by the great wheat crop and the promise of an immense corn crop, is being passed around in the middle west. Bull moose, near-progressive and independent organs acknowledged the fact today. Evidences of expanding industry come from many sources. Factory centers, steel plants and railroad shops especially are enlarging their activities. There is a distinctly better feeling in financial circles. Labor's normal content is returning because an increasing percentage of labor is finding employment.

In the Chicago manufacturing district, which includes the great industrial centers of South Chicago and Gary, Ind., thousands of men are going to work, in some factories in squads of a score or more, and in others in groups of between two and three hundred.

The Standard Steel Car company at Hammond hired 260 men last week, and is negotiating for additional help. Its working force is now 1,000. The Pullman company is employing men by the hundreds. The working force is now 10,000, and 1,000 more men are wanted.

Thousands of railroad cars fill the sidings and yards in and about Chicago awaiting their turn at the repair shops.

The traffic department of the Santa Fe issued a report today showing that 186,627 freight cars have been loaded on the Santa Fe system and received from other lines during the last month. In the same month last year 102,798 cars were loaded, an increase of 3.72 per cent. Burlington officials reported that general merchandise and the miscellaneous freight business shows an increase of from 4 to 5 per cent over last year.
